STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Section 12A of the Food Corporations Act, 1964 regulates the transfer of officers and staff working in the Food Department of the Government of India to the Food Corporation of India (hereinafter referred to as the Corporation) as and when the work relating to purchase, storage, movement, distribution and sale of food grains performed by the Food Department was transferred to the Corporation. The said section 12A envisages the exercise of two options by the said officers and staff. The first option is required to be given before the order of transfer is made to indicate as to whether an employee is willing to be transferred to the Corporation or not and the second has to be exercised within six months from the date of transfer as to whether he would like to be governed by the retirement benefits of the Central Government or of the Corporation. The date of formal transfer in the case of all those whose services were placed with the Corporation from time to time was fixed as 1st March, 1969 which corresponds to the date when the process of transfer of functions from the Food Department was completed. It took some time to secure the first option mentioned about and to get the service particulars from the employees with the result that even the first transfer order was issued only in 1972. The employees could not, therefore, give their option in regard to the retirement benefits as the period of six months from the date of transfer had already expired by the time the transfer orders were issued. In some cases employees have either died or retired before the issue of the formal transfer orders or before exercising the second option. Formal orders of transfer are yet to be issued in respect of certain employees. In view of the above, cases relating to retirement benefits of many employees still remain unsettled. Keeping in view also the urgency to mitigate the financial hardship of such employees, it was considered necessary to amend the Food Corporations Act, 1964, by means of an Ordinance. Accordingly, the Food Corporations (Amendment) Ordinance, 1976, was promulgated on 31st December, 1976.

2 The said Ordinance inter alia provided for the following matters, namely:—

(i) The exercise of a fresh option in respect of retirement benefits to all serving employees of the Corporation within a period of six months from the date of commencement of the Ordinance irrespective of whether they had exercised the option earlier or not.

(ii) In respect of those employees for whom formal orders of transfer are yet to be issued, the said option can be exercised within a period of six months from the date of such orders.

(iii) The validation of all the options exercised by the employees who have either died or retired

(w) Conferment of Central Government retirement benefits to certain employees as such benefits were more favourable than the retirement benefits of the Corporation

The Bill seeks to replace the above Ordinance.
